

The North Pole Times™

25th Anniversary Edition

Holly Elf here. It is my job to look after Santa. Last week he was traveling around checking on all the good boys and girls of the world. You know, making his list and checking it twice.

Only he can't check it twice because he can't find his glasses anywhere!

Did he visit you? Well, if Santa is doing his job, you won't know if he has visited! So we need you to look around your house so we can find them!

You might double check the Naughty and Nice list on the North Poles Times news page. I mean, if you are on the Naughty list (and I am sure you are not!) maybe you don't want him to get his glasses to check that list twice!

So where to start... Oh! I know... We can check Santa's log...

- He checked the kitchen to see if his favorite cookies were being baked yet! So ask an adult to help you check the oven. Only if it is off!
- Then he checked your room to make sure it was clean. So check your floors!
- Then he said he found your very favorite book. Check there too.
- And, and this is a secret so please don't tell him I told you, he snoozes on couches or chairs. So check there too!

Thank you!!

Holly Elf
